
Downfall Productions presents
STONE of STONE
Directed by Alec Boyd
In collaberation with the Village of Edale
A feature-length comedy-crime film
directed by Alec Boyd
written by Mark Wallington.
The story follows locals in a fictionalised village trying to pull off a daring caper to save their community from becoming a holiday-let ghost. Created by about 100 non-professional residents of the real Peak District village of Edale.
Friday 27th November doors open 7.15pm
Film starts 7.40 pm in Castleton Village Hall
Tickets £8 from Steve Hayes (07746287606)
All proceeds to Chesterfield Intensive Care Unit
It takes a village.